Jottings

The 1911 Census records him as a baker shopkeeper, aged 25, living at 226 Kilburn Lane, Paddington with his father James (52), a baker and grocer, his mother Sarah (63), his brother William (24), also a baker shopkeeper, together with a female cousin (21), a female lodger (20) and a female domestic servant (20)

Often appeared with his brother WILLIAM; indeed, they were both at the all the above mentioned clubs at the same time as each other

In April 1906, he went on a tour to France with Richmond Town Wanderers where games were played against Racing Club de Paris (4-0), Union Sportive de Calais (8-1) and Amiens Athletic Club (6-2); it is not clear if he played in the first match, but he scored twice against Calais and once against Amiens

Served on the General Committee of Richmond Town Wanderers

Played for West Hampstead from 1908 to 1911 but, during the 1908-09 season, also appeared in midweek matches for Paddington Thursday

His appearances with Paddington Thursday were occasionally with John Bowman, Arthur Humphreys and Guy Watson, all of whom appeared for Croydon Common

Married Lilian Mabel Sharman in 1911

In December 1911, he went with Richmond Town Wanderers to France to play a match against Union Sportive de Boulogne in Boulogne, although it does not appear that he was again playing for the club; the result was 1-1, but he did not score

Played at least once with John Bowman for Kilburn

Played alongside his brother in one game for Croydon Common

Both he and his brother played in glasses

Both he and his brother were good cricketers; they both played regularly for Kilburn over several seasons

The 1921 Census records him as a provision merchant living at 165 Chevening Road, Kilburn with his wife Lilian (31), son Leonard (7), daughter Renie (3) and a female servant

The 1939 Register records him as being in grocery, wines and spirits and living at 41 Honor Oak Parl, Forest Hill, London

Was still living at 41 Honor Oak Park at the time of his death, leaving £3,167 to his widow

Walter Guscott and his brother William are in the photograph, but unfortunately it has not proved possible to identify which players they are
