Jottings

Was signed from London Caledonians after having impressed the Robins when the two clubs met in the F.A. Cup on 19.11.1910
The 1901 Census records him as a pit pony driver living at 7 Gauchland Rows, Galston, with his coal miner father John (51), mother Robina (48), brothers James (13) and Allan (9) and sisters Mary (11) and Agnes (7); his older brother Robert (see below) was boarding with another family locally
The 1911 Census records him as a partition block maker living at 146 Allcroft Road, Kentish Town, with his brother Robert (33), sister in law Rose (21) and nephew Robert (3)
Played regularly for London Caledonians between cs1911 and cs1915 and again between cs1919 and 5.1926
Possibly guested for one appearance for Hampstead Town in February 1913
Was a warehouseman in 1914 and may possibly have emigrated to the USA
Joined the 14th Battalion of the London Scottish Regiment "for the duration" on 24.2.1916 and gave his address as 146 Allcroft Road NW
Beveridge was a family name which several others in the family had as a middle name
Was also recorded in the press as both Nisbett and Nesbit
