Jottings
In his first spell at Southampton, he played just one game for the Reserves and scored a hat trick
Apparently joined Southampton in 1912 as a temporary measure before emigrating to South Africa - but didn't go
Appeared for Croydon Common in 5 minor cup matches, scoring 2 goals
Scored twice on his Croydon Common debut
Gained Southern Football Alliance championship honours with Croydon Common in 1912-13
Gained Southern League Division 2 championship honours with Croydon Common in 1913-14
War service curtailed his career as a Robin
Was recruited into the Ordnance as a Private under age and paid as a boy until he reached the age of 18
Served 13 years 120 days rising to Lance Corporal at one point before going back to Private when retained until 31.3.1920 on Home Service with the 20th Batt. London Regiment
His Army record records him as having a fresh complexion, blue eyes and red hair
His single appearance for Queens Park Rangers - possibly a trial match - was on Christmas Day 1918
Southampton records show him asking for a transfer to Harland & Wolf in 1919
One of ten children, he sadly lost three brothers in France in WW1
